

HOSPICE OF THE VALLEY

Hospice is a specialized type of home care for people with life-limiting illnesses such as cancer, respiratory disease, ALS (Lou Gehrig's Disease), congestive heart failure, neurological disorders, end-stage Alzheimer's Disease, end-stage liver and kidney disease and all other end-stage illnesses. Patients receiving hospice care are encouraged to stay as active as possible. And most important, patients and their families have more involvement and greater control in decisions relating to their plan of care.

A Team Approach

Hospice of the Valley patients are cared for by an interdisciplinary team, which includes:

- Attending Physician
- Nurses
- Certified Home Health Aides
- Licensed Social Workers
- Trained Companion/Support Volunteers
- Chaplain Services/Spiritual Support
- Grief and Bereavement Support
- Medical Director
- Massage Therapy
